

A darkness has befallen the world. Zombies have emerged all over the lands and begun terrorizing those ever so fewer remaining humans. We begin our adventure in [REDACTED]. Here we find Aurora (with a strong New Jersey Accent), a radiobroadcaster named Ron, Edward Cullen (from Twilight), Karen from Mean Girls, and my wife's boyfriend Adam. The crew knew that in order to survive the apocalypse, they had to make it to Grandma's (G-ma) house. Before they could go there, they needed to make some stops along the way to pick up some stuff for G-ma ....

First they needed to go to the Nether so they decided that they should go to the jewelery store to get some obsidian. They hopped into Aurora's minicooper, and went over to New Brunswick. Ron was playing some sick ass toons. There were a shit ton of zombies in the road so Aurora in her anger and frustration decided to ram one of them. This unfortunately left the car totaled, so they were in the middle of New Brunswick. Fortunately a van arrived which was being piloted by a skeleton. The skeleton took the gang in and they journeyed on, but the tires popped. They kept going but eventually the car stopped. Edward carrying Karen on his shoulder used his superspeed to run the remaining distance to the jewelery store. Because neither of them were that smart they kept grabbing the wrong gem so they kept going back and forth while the rest of the gang slowly walked the rest of the way. Eventually they got the obsidian, but then outside of the local movie theatre (which happened to be next to the jewelry store) Aurora was getting robbed. Aurora started popping off on the robber (in a heavy Jersey accent) and Ron was interviewing the robber during the process. The robber was a 5-year old child named Elie. Elie ended up stabbing Ron. While the gang was trying to figure out making the nether portal, the skeleton began collecting bones and set his sights on becoming the bone king. A dog also joined the gang. The dog wanted to eat the skeleton, but Elie wanted to keep the dog. Aurora was also a fan of the dog, so they kept the dog. The portal was made and the gang went into the portal, but they fucked up and it took them into the Netherlands. Here the boneking stepped in but collapsed and became a bunch of pieces. Before he could reassemble, the dog picked up all the bones and ran into the distance. Here we encounter CATGIRL DONALD TRUMP. They were approached by a Netherlander on a bike who made them a new portal which took them to the Nether.

They then went into the Nether. Immediately, a Ghast blasted them with a fireball and the portal turned off. But why? Why did they go to the nether? They needed glowstone. (SOMETHING HAPPENED IDK) The Nether started collapsing. Ellie decided to befriend the Ghast. "HI HI HI DO YOU WANT TO BE FRIENDS" The Ghast became friends and politely relit the portal. In this time some glowstone fell from the sky. They grabbed it and went back through the portal, and the portal opened up in MAROLAGO because CATGIRL DONALD TRUMP had a secret portal. They needed to go to Marolago to get the president's documents. They asked CATGIRL DONALD TRUMP for the documents but he wouldn't budge. Aurora tried to use a laserpointer to make CATGIRL DONALD TRUMP run in circles and beg for mercy, but instead CATGIRL DONALD TRUMP went and sat down to meditate. Elie started poking CATGIRL DONALD TRUMP, and said "HEY" "HEY" "MY MOMMY HATES YOU" and TRUMP said "She's a bad person" (there was a big back and forth here) and as this was going on a zombie came into the room and bit CATGIRL DONALD TRUMP and also another zombie bit Karen from Meangirls. At this point, Edward was tired of this bullshit and decided to go to Brazil, and Aurora agreed and decided to join. The gang then encountered a couple of the marolago employees which included Brian Pinsky with his plane, a (6' 10") Benzi and (5' 1') Sam joined together, Kevin (A drunk Rutgers student with a shit ton of drugs). Kevin drunkenly remembers where the documents are. He also invites people to go to this rager where everyone is gonna do LSD. Elie wants to join the party to which Kevin agrees but informs Elie of Stanley (a predator). Elie doesn't care, Elie wants to do drugs because Elie thinks they will taste yummy. They make it down the hall to the left down the elevator shaft and make it to the bridge being guarded by a troll. The troll asked them a riddle, and the riddle was "HOW MANY MORE WEEKS OF WINTER". The gang was debating and pondering this riddle when SUDDENLY Punxtatauney Phil busted out of the wall and declared that we were all fools and he could see everything. The troll was getting tired of this shit and went into negotiations with the crew. They decided that the troll would become the legal guardian of Elie, and Elie was happy about this so that she could can the troll DADDY. They agreed and the troll now the legal guardian sent Elie to the democratic republic of the Cargo to work the Cobalt mines. They then went into the cave where the documents were and everyone did LSD, and they were seeing glowing crazy rocks.

After they sobered up, there was one rock remaining which was a GREAT ROCK OF WISDOM. "HELLO MORTALS". Kevin was enamoured by the rock and took it and asked it "OH Great Stone of Wisdom, how can I rizz up hot goth chicks". "You are much too imature and will fail". This made Kevin sad and Kevin put the wise rock into his backpack. Kevin took the rock back out and asked if it was so wise, then what could he do to improve to rizz up goth chicks. The WISE ROCK told him to read nihilism and philosophy and use that to improve his game. They then took the documents and Brian drove them to NASA. It was then that Ted Kazynski made a bomb and decided to ecoblow up the plane, but instead Sam/Benzi pushed Ted out of the plane but Ted had a parachute and so survived to live another day. The gang makes it to NASA and needs to recover icecream and moonrocks. Sam/Benzi venture over to get the Icecream. The moon at this time decided to turn out to be an egg and out hatched the enderdragon with lego batman riding on top. At this time the SKELETON KING sitting on a throne of bones on a sleigh of bones being pulled by the dog arrived. He forged a great bow out of bones and together with Brians lucious hair, they shot a single arrow at the enderdragon and it falls off. Kevin sees this and decides to use his epic beer pong skills to throw a ping pong ball at the enderdragon. This makes the dragon instantly vanish and batman glided down and out fell a moonstone. The moon stone and the wise rock had an enemies to lovers arc and then they decided to put the two in Kevin's backpack and they made love and made fusion rocks. Sam/Benzi regrouped with the icecream.

Now that the crew had all of the items needed, the skeleton king reach out a hand to the rest of the gang and asked "will you join me to Grandma's house?". Kevin kneeled and said "oh yes great bone man". They all ventured on and up to Minnesota where they went to grandma's house which turned out to be Aurora's grandma in Minnesota this whole time. There they found all of the previous characters from the story (who were still alive). Even Karen was cured but since she had a zombie phase, she became a goth girl. Kevin then tried to rizz up Karen but Karen rejected him.

Then the crew, all assembled, went up to G-mas house and G-ma ascended down and said "Are these the Gifts you have brought me??" . Being pleased, G-ma granted them entry into grandma's house. Grandma also granted them some wishes. There was a wish that goth girl Karen and drunk rutgers student Kevin fall for one another, which was granted. The other was that the gang lived happily ever after, and that too was granted.... The End.
